It's one of the most productive retail destinations in the nation. Each year, over 25 million visitors are drawn to Tysons Corner Center. The area is fast becoming the central hub of the greater Washington, D.C. area. Some are attracted to the department stores like Bloomingdale’s, Nordstrom, Lord & Taylor and Macy’s.

TURNING THE CORNER

While others are drawn to the unique mix of 300+ shops and restaurants, including first-to-market boutiques and new concept stores, the Tysons of today is impressive. But it’s nothing compared to what we’re building. Here is your chance to be a part of our future.
TYSONS CORNER CENTER SERVES A TOTAL TRADE AREA OF MORE THAN 3.2 MILLION PEOPLE
With over two million square feet of dynamic retail, open-air courtyards and elevated plazas, Tysons Corner Center is the go-to destination for families and fashionistas alike. But these are not ordinary shoppers. Because of Tysons’ ideal location and sophisticated retail offerings, the typical Tysons visitor is both affluent and well educated. The Center serves a primary trade area with an average household income of $147,896. With the right mix of retail and demography, it’s no wonder Tysons Corner Center continues to surpass all shopping center industry benchmarks.

THE NEW DOWNTOWN
TYSONS CORNER CENTER WILL BE ADDING 50,000 SQ. FT. OF RETAIL TO THEIR LINE UP OF 300+ STORES
The future of Tysons Corner Center will be a 24-hour urban center where people enjoy living, working and playing. The expansion includes Tysons Tower, Vita Apartments, Hyatt Regency and a Grand Plaza with exciting new shopping and dining options and world-class events. Residents will savor the unobstructed, panoramic views of the D.C. skyline from the area’s only rooftop swimming pool.

SEE AND BE SCENE

Tenants will appreciate the flexible office space and views from the tallest office building in Tysons Corner. And commuters will love the covered walkway that directly connects them to the new Metrorail station. In 2014, retail, hotel, office and residential space are converging into a one-of-a-kind space.

TYSONS CORNER CENTER WILL BECOME THE NEW DOWNTOWN OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA
The first Silver Line Metrorail will begin service to Tysons Corner in 2013, connecting visitors to all points in the Greater D.C. area. In future years, additional stations, including Washington Dulles International Airport, will serve the area creating the “new” downtown of Northern Virginia. Ridership to these new stops is projected to exceed 5,000 passengers daily. This access will attract businesses, residents and tourists with over 95% of all new development within walking distance of the expanded Metrorail.

THE DEVELOPER

As the owner and master developer of the Tysons Corner Center expansion, Macerich enjoys the support of a number of best-in-class partners that underscore the high-caliber nature of this project. Building on its history of joint ventures throughout the country, Macerich has engaged a core team of partners that includes a four-star hotel tenant, a premier hotel operator, and a development manager for the Tysons Tower office building, residential building and hotel. Macerich welcomes additional partnerships as the project progresses.

ALASKA PERMANENT FUND CORPORATION

APFC is a key investor in the project. The APFC supports a dedicated fund owned by the state of Alaska, known as the Alaska Permanent Fund, which was established in 1976 to safeguard the robust income that Alaskans anticipated the oil pipeline would produce for the state.
